Enable On-Time Delivery of Manufacturing Projects

Today, Industrial enterprises need to survive in a dynamic market condition which is subject to ever-increasing and changing requirements. An agile manufacturing enterprise must have access to real-time critical production information to rapidly adapt to new manufacturing operations. Innovapptive's production order mobile app (mProdOrder) empowers your plant managers and supervisors to optimize the confirmation of operations in real time at the plant. The mProdOrder mobile app from Innovapptive provides full visibility to company headquarters to track and monitor an on time delivery of manufacturing projects.

Real Time Manufacturing Visibility Drives Higher Efficiency

Plant managers and supervisors can be more productive than ever before by simply confirming production order execution at the point of completing the operations, anywhere, anytime. Eliminating paper based processes that are prone to errors and rework creates a real time and highly visible manufacturing process that eliminates communication gaps on issues or approvals to company headquarters.

Transparent Manufacturing Process Drives Better Decision Making

The mTravel mobile app creates a greater control and compliance with policies. Employees can now use the mTravel mobile app to check in real-time company policies to make in-policy and out of policy expense decisions.
