mShop
The Future of E-Procurement

SAP® Certified
Mobile App

Eliminate Human Errors and Risk of Procurement Noncompliance

Field employees in industries such as engineering and construction or sales reps do not have the ability to raise a self-service requisition anywhere, anytime. These field employees choose the least path of resistance, by consistently ordering goods and services over the phone and requesting the creation of a purchase requisition, after the fact. This non-conformance to your standard purchasing process has a significant impact to your savings opportunities and increases the risk of your procurement non-compliance. mShop, an SAP certified mobile solution empowers your field workforce to raise and manage their requisitions anywhere, anytime.

Focus Procurement on Strategic Initiatives & Savings Opportunities

Procurement departments are often burdened by the administrative tasks in procurement of these routine maintenance, repair, and overhaul items and services. Field employees that don't have access to your SAP SRM or other E-Procurement Tools means that your procurement department will likely get bogged down in organizing and processing requisitions and answering queries about the status of transactions. mShop mobile solution from Innovapptive eliminates the need for your procurement staff to work on these administrative tasks and focuses them on strategic issues.

Reduce Costs to Automate Procurement

Implementing and supporting an internal E-Catalog Solution is extremely expensive. Innovapptive's mShop mobile solution comes pre-packaged with features to upload contracts with line item details, images, additional attributes and views capability. These internal catalogs can then be readily available on the mShop mobile solution to promote compliance and automation of your procurement processes.

Reduce Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) of E-Procurement

Implementing an e-procurement solution can be an extremely expensive affair. Beginning from software licensing, integration, implementation and support costs. mShop mobile solution is an SAP certified solution available in SAP UI5 and is built on your core SAP ECC system to leverage the full benefits of e-procurement and self-service procurement anywhere, anytime.

"mShop mobile solution is available in SAP UI5 and supports all your popular devices, including laptops, desktops, smartphones and tablets. Eliminate the need for an expensive e-procurement and catalog solutions. Empower your workforce and automate procurement processes anywhere, anytime."
